

CONFERENCE TECHNOLOGY CONSULTING SERVICES

The Ultimate Conference IT Integrator

Computer Architech's has provided complete technology consulting services at conferences for nearly a decade. We offer pre-show planning and design, on-site logistical setup and deployment, and post-show wrap-up services. Let our years of experience help assist you with providing the perfect technology solutions for your conference.

Some of our conference technology consulting services include:

- Power Requirement Assessment - After carefully assessing your unique electronic equipment requirements, we'll work closely with the venue's electricians to make sure that you have the exact power you need for your solution.
- Equipment Logistics - Our experience working with conference vendors is your assurance that your hardware will safely ship in and ship out on schedule and to the correct destination.
- On-Site Security - We make sure that all components of your solutions are secured and locked down. When necessary, we will hire security personnel to protect your equipment.
- Design and Layout - We design your solutions to maximize visibility and ensure that every small detail is taken into consideration. Our experience guarantees that you avoid the complications that can occur when trying to deploy your solution.
- Internet Connectivity - Whether a venue provides Internet connectivity or requires that you provide your own, we can work with any vendor to set the proper requirements to reflect your Internet needs. We make sure that you have sufficient bandwidth and a backup plan to maintain 100% uptime.
- Network Cabling - Network cabling options vary from venue to venue. It is often more affordable to provide your own solution than to use what is available. We'll use our experience to help you control your costs and provide the optimal solution.
- Registration Coordination - Working closely with your registration company, we can obtain up-to-the-minute attendee data before and during your event. This data can be used to provide crucial information for your technology solutions where needed.

Our services include pre-show planning and design, on-site logistical setup and deployment and post-show wrap up.

Contact us to find out how you can benefit from our working hand-in-hand with your conference team. You'll get the results you expect, at a cost that meets your budget.
